

CULT CLUB FOOD FIESTA: BHOG & BHAVAI

IIPM Ahmedabad organized a food festival on July 12th, 2008 under the Cult club banner with concept of “Bhog and Bhavai”. Students were asked to depict various states’ foods, dance, and cultures in a group wherein they had to cook the food, decorate which should depict the culture, dress up accordingly and perform a folk dance of that particular state.

Students promoted the Cult Club and also the theme by putting some promotional activities in the campus, so students are aware of the event. Students were very much enthusiastic while performing their particular state. We had various states like Punjab, Gujarat, Jammu & Kashmir, Maharashtra and Rajasthan. Among the Jury, we had Ms. Nafiza Rao and Ms. Ditti to score them.

Students not only performed on their particular state dance, but they decorated so nicely, that the jury actually felt they were in that particular state. Various food varieties were seen in the food menu. All types of food were displayed on the table, while jury was judging them. Some group actually cooked food themselves, few groups got the food from outside, but they were very smart to convince the Jury as they knew the recipe. 😊

Overall, the event was full of fun. Students enjoyed the event. Even those students who did not participated enjoyed eating the varieties of food.

Snapshots of the event:

“Garvi Gujarat”
Students representing Gujarat State

“Sher-e- Punjab”
Balle Balle- Bhangra performed by Students.

"Jai Maharashtra" Dhagala Lagli jhaala